

What Can I Do To Help?

Thanks for Contacting Tasmanians for Marine Parks

The track record is telling us that this issue will be ignored indefinitely until the Tasmanian population demands that it be fixed. This will be a long process to raise the profile of this issue and we will require help from lots of people.

Stay Safe and Healthy

What Tasmanians for Marine Parks wants from you is to first deal with the things that keep you sane, safe and healthy, then set aside a little time for other things if you can.

Not having an interest or skills in digesting huge technical reports, doesn't mean you have nothing to add. It's enough that you are bringing some positivity and diversity to the group's activities if that is all the energy you have to spare.

Everyone can also have input. Everyone has different skills and connections. Try to enjoy it. Don't turn yourself inside out. It will be a marathon not a sprint.
